Characteristics that set it apart from others

I Product Overview (sauce)

①soy sauce

Tamari soy sauce is used, which accounts for only 1% of the total production of soy sauce.

Tamari soy sauce has a strong flavor because it is made from soybeans only.

The soy sauce is made without wheat and alcohol.

✘Alcohol is not normally used in honjoso shoyu, but many manufacturers add alcohol for preservation purposes. However, many manufacturers add alcohol for preservation purposes.

The limited production of soy sauce makes it a product that other companies cannot imitate.

②oligosaccharide

- Galactooligosaccharide, which is expected to increase the number of bifidobacteria in the intestines and improve constipation when taken in certain amounts on a regular basis, is added.

③sugar

- Sugar beet molasses produced from sugar beet. Rich in oligosaccharides and many minerals

I Product Overview (gluten-free)

【 gluten-free 】

A product that does not contain gluten, a protein found in grains such as wheat, rye, and barley.

Originally, gluten-free products were intended for patients with gluten intolerance, irritable bowel syndrome (IBS), and celiac disease, but since around 2002, the gluten-free market has expanded in the United States, the largest market, to include health-conscious consumers who are not patients.

【 market scale 】

The global gluten-free products market reached a size of US$17.5 billion in 2021. Currently, the number of patients with celiac disease is also on the rise, and the market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 8.2% from 2022 to 2027, reaching a value of US$28.3 billion by 2027.
